Thought for the Week

Jesus invites himself into our lives and, when he does, he introduces us to a very different way of living in the world. Hospitality, the gracious receiving of the stranger, is what Jesus does, in receiving each of us. Hospitality is also what Jesus commands each of us to do. We are to receive one another, particularly those in need, as Jesus has received us.

Prayer

Lord Jesus, teach us to follow you by living in the world as you live. Help us to receive one another as you have received us. Thereby we shall, by your grace, and in your name, turn the world upside down, throw everything up for grabs, and turn the conventional morality on its head. By your grace. Amen.
